Goshen College, Ever Singing

Alma Mater

There's a spot in Indiana,
Where the leafy Maple grows;
'Tis our dear and glorious Parkside,
Where the Elkhart River flows;
'Tis a spot we love most dearly,
'Tis a spot we'll cherish long,
After youth and strength have faded,
And this world has heard our song.

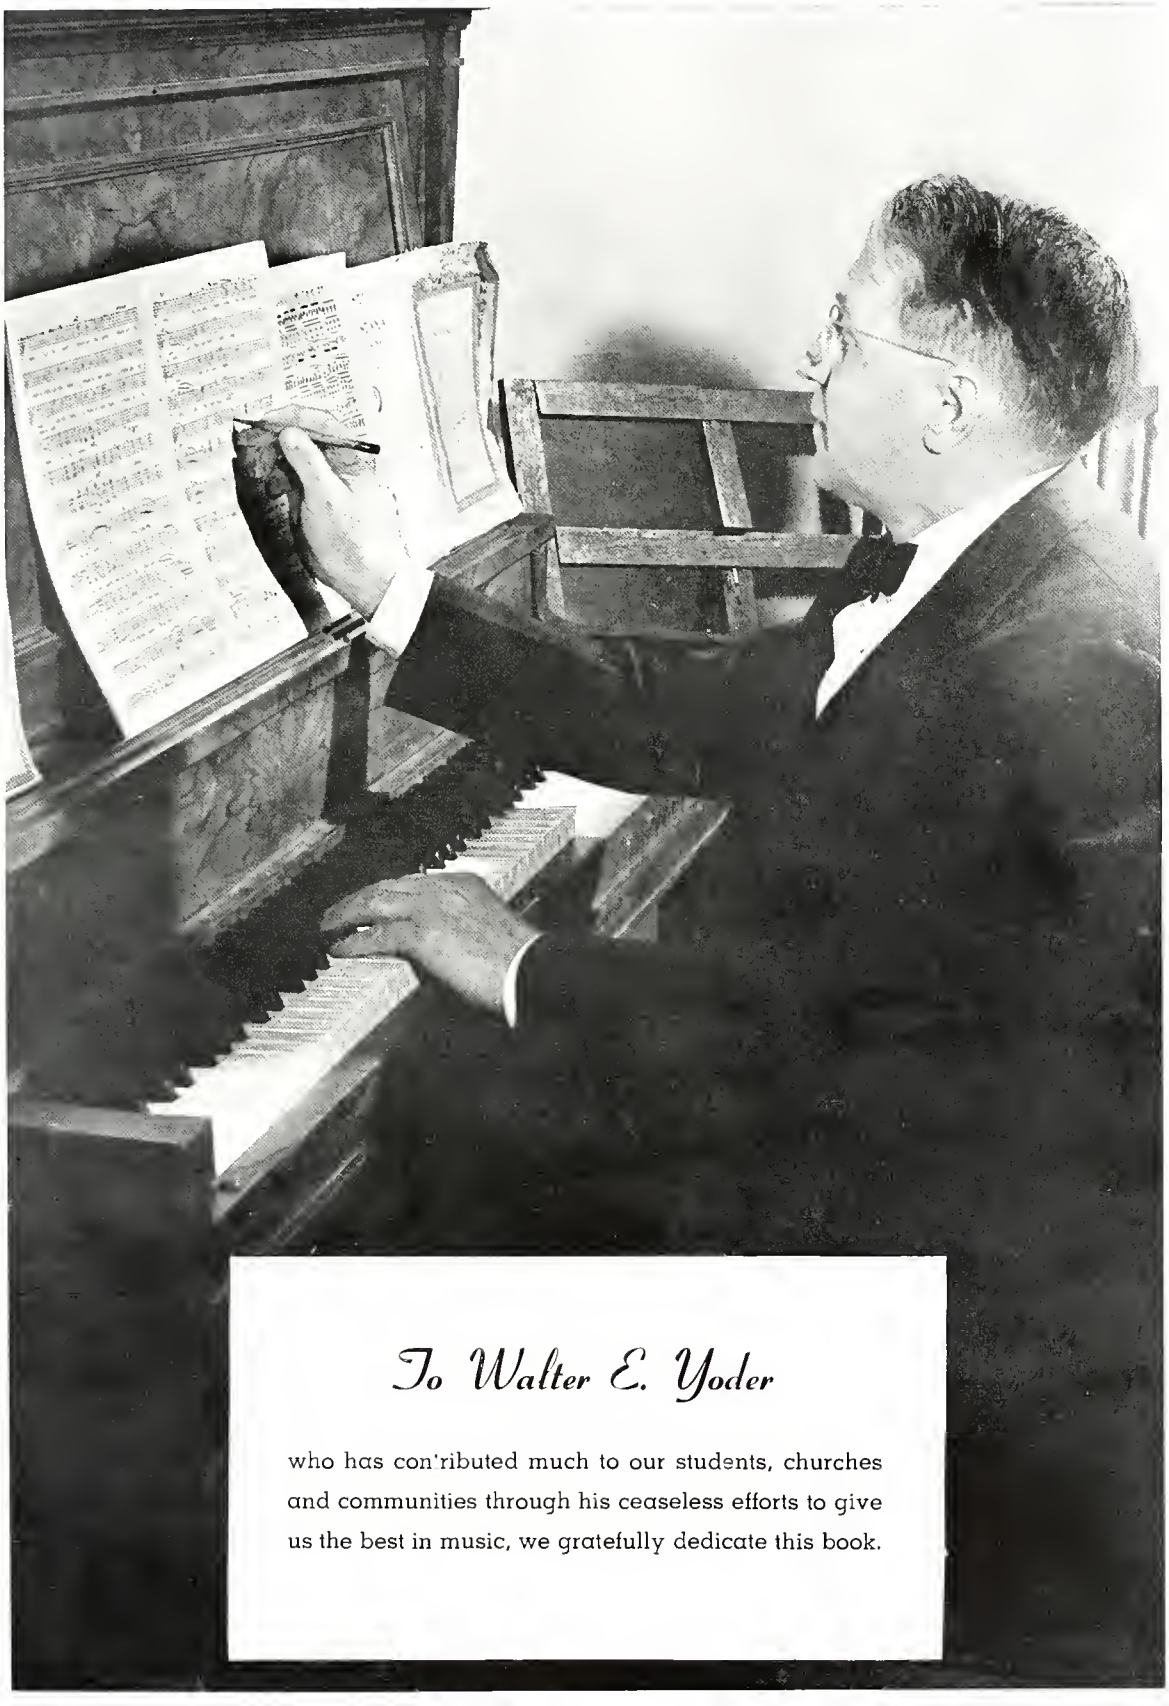
Refrain:

Goshen College, ever singing,
To her motto we'll be true.
Honor to our Master bringing,
Alma Mater, we love you.

Here we learn life's duties, doing,
In our sacred College halls,
Freshman, Soph'more, Junior, Senior,
Answer "Aye" when duty calls.
Though our talents may be slender
Yet our hearts beat warm and true,
Ever lead us onward, upward,
Ever shall our strength renew.

And the lasting ties of friendship,
Woven thru with hopes and fears:
May they ne'er be brok'n asunder
In the distant coming years.
Though our future paths may lead us
To fair heights we cannot see,
Alma Mater, ere we leave you,
Loyalty we pledge to thee.

M. E. Miller John D. Brunk



To Walter E. Yoder

who has con'ributed much to our students, churches and communities through his ceaseless efforts to give us the best in music, we gratefully dedicate this book.

FOREWORD

As the artist's thoughts are woven into a musical pattern, so are our lives woven into a harmonious song. As its theme, Culture for Service, swells out over the horizon of today, the students and faculty reminisce concerning the experiences which have made it a great composition. Myriad are these experiences—ringing bells and shuffling feet, opening and closing doors, strains of a cappella singing, open books and alert minds, moon light and falling water, lasting friendships, lectures of professors and sermons of ministers, prayers and praises of a Christian faculty and Christian students—these are but a few. It is this theme which we wish to present in the 1948 volume of the MAPLE LEAF.

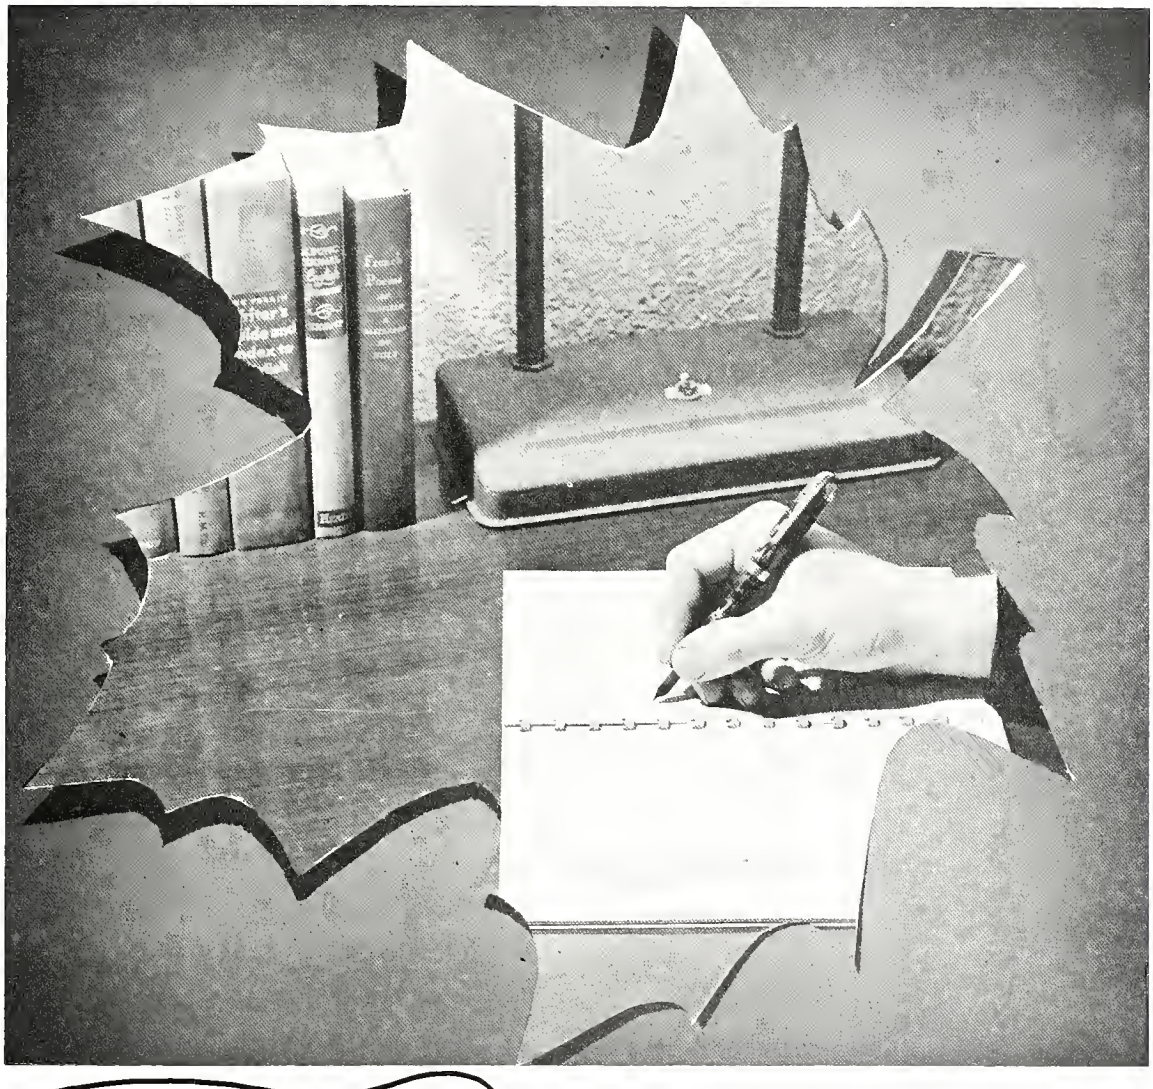
The Great Singer of Israel sang, "The righteous shall be glad in Jehovah, and shall take refuge in him: and all the upright in heart shall glory." To those who have helped to make our lives glad and have shown to us the harmony of beautiful living, we give our thanks. Your song of truth will live on for we have listened and we have learned.



To serve the present Age,
My calling to fulfill—
Oh, may it all my pow'rs engage
To do my Master's will.

—Charles Wesley.

President and
Professor of Education

Ph.D., New York

A major difficulty these days is to remain sensitively aware of the evils of our time and still maintain in a vital sense the ground of unshakable triumphant hope. There is much in the present world situation to cause concern. There is a widespread breakdown of moral sensitiveness among our adult population. There is an alarming spread of juvenile delinquency. There is deplorable greed, selfishness, and exploitation in public and private life. In a pamphlet written a few months before his death, H. G. Wells suggested that "we are now witnessing the end of the human experiment, the last act in the dramatic story of homo-sapiens." To dismiss this statement as the morbid foreboding of a dying man is merely to attempt to evade the realities of our time.

However, it is at just such a period that the fortitude of the Christian must be unshaken. He must abound in hopefulness, for as John R. Mott has pointed out, "no pessimist ever became a great Christian leader, no doubter ever led a triumphant advance." The real ambassador for Christ creates an atmosphere of optimistic faith so that it becomes easier for other men to believe and hope. Such a hope rests in our faith in our Christ. Christ is not an alleged incarnation of God as Buddha or Ram or Sita. He is the great I AM. He is the Bread of Life. He is the Light of the World. He is the Saviour of the World. And because of this the Christian remains triumphantly hopeful.

—Ernest E. Miller.

CARL KREIDER

Dean and Professor of Economics

Ph.D., Princeton

A French writer has recently characterized our twentieth century as the century of fear. Why should an institution of higher learning persist in singing hymns of praise and joy in this "century of fear?" Because its faculty and students have learned of the "perfect love" which "casteth out fear." This is indeed a century of fear—of utter despair—for the non-Christian who has seen his idols of "enlightenment" and "scientific method" crumble to the earth. This is a time of infinite hope—of supreme confidence—for the Christian. He who has learned to know Christ sees more clearly than ever before that the hope of mankind lies in the application of the Gospel of the Son of Man. A Christian College, dedicated to providing a Christian culture which will stimulate and give meaning to lives of Christian service MUST sing or "the very stones would cry out."

"We yield our powers to Thy command;
To Thee we consecrate our days;
Perpetual blessings from Thine hand
Demand perpetual songs of praise."

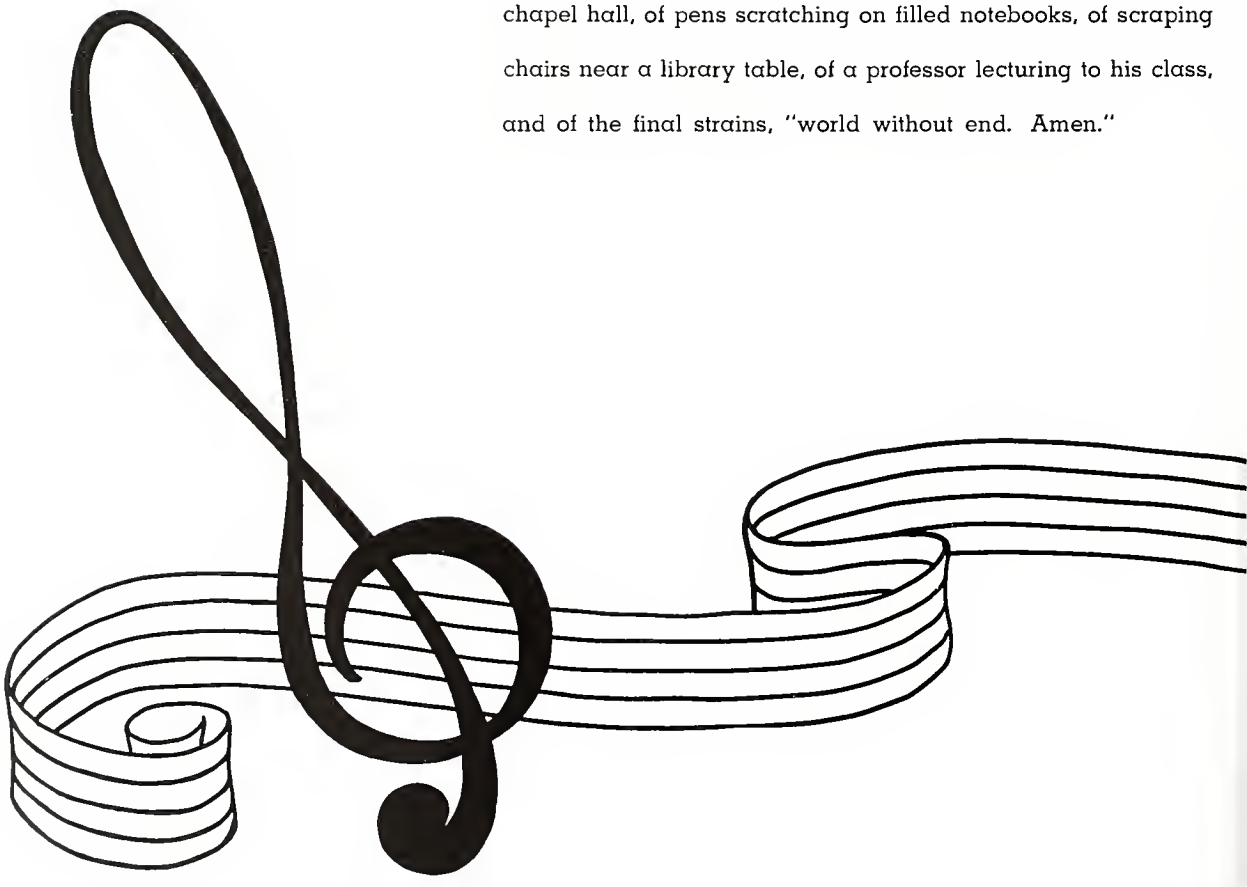
The Classes

With mingled feelings we leave behind us another year with its music—the music of many feet ascending the steps to chapel hall, of pens scratching on filled notebooks, of scraping chairs near a library table, of a professor lecturing to his class, and of the final strains, "world without end. Amen."



Accept my talents, great or small,
Choose Thou the path for me,
Where I shall labor joyously
In service, Lord, for Thee.

—Edith Witmer

In the fall of 1944, twenty-eight men and sixty-four women entered Goshen College as freshmen. In one respect we came at an unfortunate time—during the war. During our second year, 1945-46, there were but nine men in our class. Social life? . . . No comment. That year the girls took over Coffman Hall. We, who lived there, will never forget the first mournful serenade by the well known "sixty six."

However, we saw many changes take place during the next two years. The men returned and a quadrangle was built to house them, the cafeteria replaced the famiy style dining hall, students from abroad arrived, classes became overcrowded, and the senior sneak became the dignified "Senior Educational Tour." We enjoyed our "tour" at Pokagon State Park, and then gave the Juniors a party (in a classical Roman setting) for filling our places and our clothes so well during our absence.

Our class has representatives from Italy, Lebanon, India, Holland, Canada, Argentina, and the United States. From our ranks will come doctors, missionaries, ministers, nurses, business men and women, teachers, homemakers, and social workers — all endeavoring to live and labor in the light of our class motto, "Let Each One Become All That He Was Created To Be."

With smiles of joy and hearty handshakes we greeted old classmates and welcomed those who came to join us from other colleges. Thus we began our junior year at Goshen College. This year brought added responsibilities and duties—the "Y", the MAPLE LEAF and the Junior-Senior Banquet. Our upper level courses meant longer periods of concentrated study and thought. This year will be remembered not only by the gay events such as wearing the seniors' clothes while they were on their "educational tour," the party at Studebaker Park and the George Washington Party, and athletics, but also for those daily events such as lessons, chapel, and term papers which weave together and prepare us to have God as our guide, His service our path, and His glory our goal.

HARVEST

The love that reaches enemies,
The joy that laughs in rain,
The peace that enters darkness,
The forbearance that lasts thru pain,
The self-restraint that controls you,
The kindness that saves the poor,
The goodness that revives the sick,
The silent faithfulness to endure,
God's Spirit doth this harvest bring in you!

FRIEND

While wandering through the snow-filled wood today,
The wintry wind that rustled through the trees
Brought to me, friend, a sudden thought of thee—
I wished thy soul were white as new-fallen snow.
The cold, grey sky, the barren limbs of trees
Aroused in me a thought of thy cold heart,
And why it is thy heart toward God is cold.
Thou knowest not sweet fellowship with Him;
Thou dwell'st in darkness though the light is near.
I asked my God why He had not called thee,
Why thou art not His, to serve and love:
And His reply, so calm and full of warmth
And of chastising love, put me to shame:
"Dost thou not know, my son, how oft he looks at thee
And thinks—'If God has not made him a better man,
How could He me?' "

The majority of our Freshman class, not being satisfied with only one year of college life, anxiously returned to Goshen to continue their education. Not many changes were noticeable although we missed our former classmates. Our cosmopolitan enrollment of one hundred sixty-seven members included students from the cold Canadian north to sunny Puerto Rico; across the waters from Holland as well as from fourteen states of the union.

The newness had worn off and were were ready to settle down to a year of hard work—not excluding good times. Our hard work began in our new advanced classes. Good times followed shortly on such occasions as bumpy hay-ride to Benton with a weiner roast and beautiful moon-light ride. One night that will be remembered by many including the Soph I basketball victory over Frosh I, topped off with a Christmas party at the cabin.

We are looking forward with much anticipation to the coming years of continued preparation for service and are grateful for the challenging opportunities and experiences that being a part of Goshen College has brought to us.

One hundred and ninety-three dazed freshmen, from California to Pennsylvania, from Canada to Mississippi, arrived on the campus of Goshen College in September. The first few weeks were a maze of taking endless tests, trying to survive the registration rush, and desperately making an effort to match names and faces. Each mind was filled with a huge question mark. Where is Aurora Hall? Which is my seat in chapel? What time is lunch served? Is he a professor or a classmate? When is my English composition due? Which literary society shall I join? Finally things began to take an even course and then came the first six-weeks tests to shatter smooth sailing.

Of course there is a social side to college life too. Everyone remembers the outing at the cabin, the day at Camp Mack, the Get Acquainted Social, the Freshmen Banquet, Sisters All, Manhunt, the Music and Lecture Series, baseball, football, Home Coming, basketball and a host of other things to keep the freshman occupied.

Three more days till vacation. Do you remember those wonderful days packed full of food and fun at home? Christmas was over in a very short time and then semester exams kept every Freshman at a high rate of concentration and study. A week-end at Brunk's Cabin or skating at the dam and the Mid-Winter Social helped to relieve the tension of tired minds. Religious activities strengthened us and aided our spiritual growth. The revival meetings, Christian Life Conference, prayer groups, Christian Workers' Band and the daily chapel programs were just the incentive each one needed.

Rain and mud, then tennis, archery, baseball, Spring Festival and spring had actually arrived. Once again exams became the main interest in everyone's life. Now you have the wonderful feeling of relief because you have passed all your courses and you are no longer a lowly Freshman.

TWICE BORN

Upon a sacred scene of human love and wooing,
God hovered, smiled, and cast one tiny seed of life.
Oh, I was born and He encased within my being
A soul to love the pure, the good, the right.
He gave me eyes to drink in nature's inundating splendor,
Ears tuned to catch the brooklet's laugh, the lark's sweet song.
Oh, I was satisfied, my cup rose to the brimming
The cattle on a thousand hills were God's and mine.
Oh, I was born again. Anon I did not enter
The second time into my mother's womb.
The Spirit softly breathed, I knew not where He listed,
But heard the sound thereof—the sound of peace and song.
He filled my life with love for all unlovely,
The warped of mind and soul, the bleeding, crushed, and torn.
Compassion broke my cup of smug self-satisfied contentment
To let His love reach others, and flow on.

In 1946 the Council of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges discussed the possibility of student exchange. President E. E. Miller and President E. G. Kaufman of Bethel College were appointed to investigate educational centers and student exchange possibilities and made a trip to Europe for this purpose. Presidents Miller and Kaufman selected a group of students and they were distributed among the Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges in accordance with arrangements previously agreed upon.

In a farewell speech to the Dutch students Professor Dr. W. Leendertz reminded them that the visit to America had been made possible "In the Name of Christ" and he earnestly urged them that Christ's name should stand as the center of their interests and activities in America. Twenty-five European students comprised the group coming from Holland, Belgium, Italy and France. Goshen College also had two students from Lebanon, four from Puerto Rico, and two from Paraguay.

In August 1946 the Council decided to investigate the possibilities of sending groups of American Mennonite students to Europe during the summer of 1947. Twenty-seven students were selected by the presidents of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges and Menno Travel Service assumed responsibility for the travel arrangements for the group.

The report of the students making this first visit was so favorable that the Council decided to select another group to visit Europe during the summer of 1948.

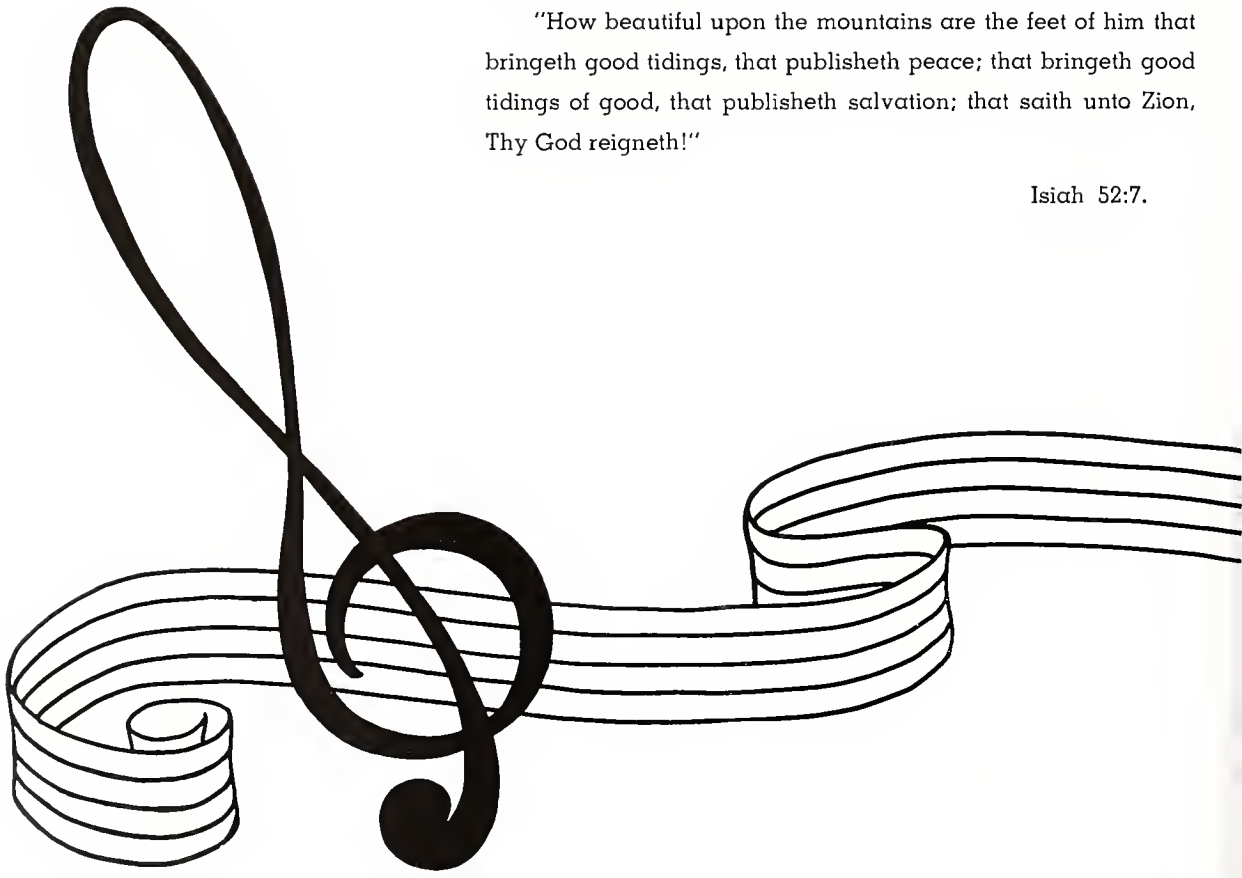
The Biblical Seminary

"The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in Him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise Him. The Lord is their strength, and He is the saving strength of His anointed." Psalm 28:7-8.

"How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!"

Isiah 52:7.



Jesus, of Thee shall be my song;
To Thee my heart and soul belong:
All that I have or am is Thine;
And Thou, blest Saviour, Thou art mine:
Jesus, my Lord, I Thee adore;
O make me love Thee more and more.

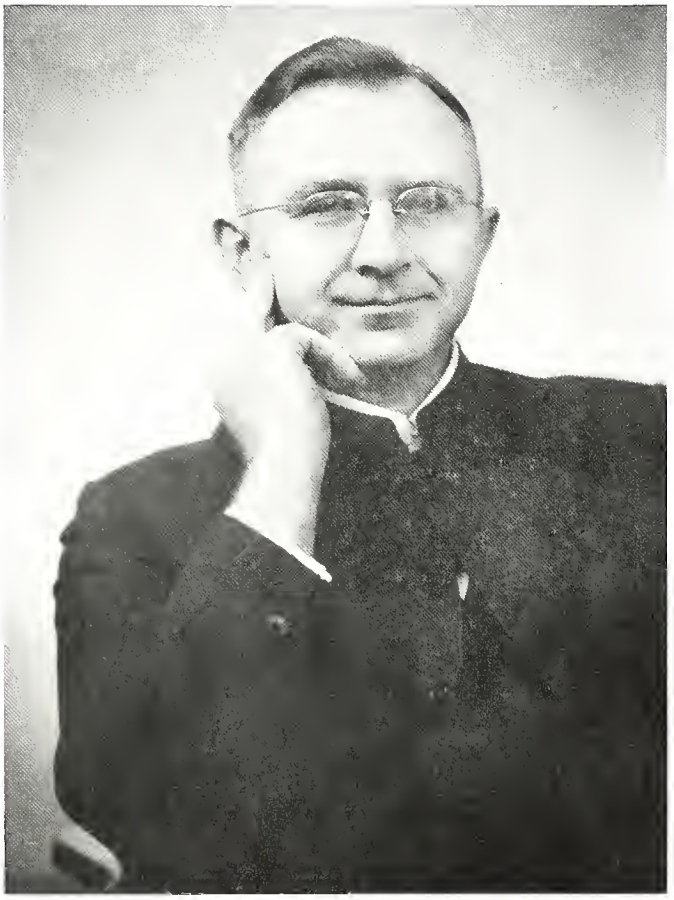
HAROLD S. BENDER

Dean of the Seminary

Professor of Church History
Th.D., Heidelberg University

Harold S. Bender, Dean of the Biblical Seminary and Professor of Church History, has been absent on Sabbatical leave from Goshen College for the school year 1947-48. Dean Bender is spending the entire year traveling in Europe re-establishing spiritual contacts with European Mennonites as a representative of the American Mennonites. In this work he is also helping our European brethren re-establish their regional conferences. To the many relief workers now in Europe he serves as a pastor and counsellor and is also serving in an advisory capacity for the Mennonite Central Committee in the European relief work.

Besides ministering to the relief needs, he is promoting the peace cause through church conferences and publication work. As co-editor of both the MENNONITISCHES LEXIKON and the MENNONITE ENCYCLOPEDIA he is devoting his untiring efforts to collecting information and contacting writers for both of these monumental works.



PAUL MININGER

Acting Dean of the Seminary
Professor of Practical Theology

M.A., University of Pennsylvania

The confusion and distress of our day is placing a tremendous strain upon human resources for living. Man's efforts are failing to produce the results that were anticipated. Man is learning, perhaps too late, that his intelligence, knowledge and power are not able to cope with the tremendous forces that are turned loose in our world. The result is a crisis in the personal lives of millions, a crisis in the church and community and a crisis in the world society.

In every human crisis, God approaches man with the invitation, "Hear the Word of the Lord." Man can adequately meet the crisis only after he has had a fresh encounter with God, has heard His Word, has responded to His grace, and has made a new commitment to Him. Then he is ready to move forward and act under the guidance and power of the Spirit of God.

The Goshen College Biblical Seminary is seeking to help men and women to hear the Word of the Lord, inspire them to commit their lives to Him and prepare them to interpret the "Word of the Lord" to the men and women of our time.

The Biblical Seminary is a direct continuation of the Bible School which was first organized in 1900 as a division of the Elkhart Institute and has been maintained through the years as a division of Goshen College. At the present time the Seminary offers a three-year program of courses in Biblical and theological study designed to give an all-around general preparation for the service of the church. Several other curricula also are offered to those unable to pursue the theological curriculum.

It is the purpose of the Seminary to lead each student into a richer knowledge of God as revealed in Jesus Christ through the Word of God. It is the purpose of the Seminary to lead all students to a fuller sense of mission and equip them for effective service in the church as lay-workers, teachers, ministers and missionaries.

Seminary Fellowship

Two thousand years ago, in the little province of Galilee, our Lord had to make special efforts to break away from His busy life of teaching and healing. The multitudes who followed after Him demanded His attention to their hunger, their diseases and their wounds of the body and spirit. Even though Jesus had compassion on the multitudes in their dire needs, yet He was often constrained to take His disciples and seek a quiet place apart for rest and fellowship.

In the busy whirl of thinks on the Goshen College campus it is also necessary to make special efforts to find a time and place to "come apart" for quiet fellowship. It is the purpose of the Seminary Fellowship to provide a period bi-weekly for the students and faculty of the Seminary to come apart for prayer, fellowship and discussion of various problems of peculiar interest to the Seminary group.

Correspondence Department

This department has proven its worth to the many who have taken courses of study in the following subjects: The Life of Christ; The Gospel of John; First Corinthians; Old Testament Studies; New Testament Studies; Missions. Other courses of study are in course of preparation and will be ready at an early date. The courses of study are on a college level and any who qualify for college entrance may matriculate and study for credit. Non-credit students upon passing their final examinations receive certificates of achievement. Students who lack several hours of credit for graduation may receive sufficient credit for obtaining their degree through correspondence Bible Study.

Correspondence instruction follows the latest and improved practices and is well adapted to the requirements of productive home study. The Director endeavors to keep in close touch with each student and to furnish all possible help in solving problems that arise in the mind of the student.

Ministers, Missionaries, Teachers, Christian Workers and many in professional life, representing a number of denominations and more than a dozen States, Provinces in Canada and other countries have successfully passed their final examinations and have received college credit.

Winter Bible School

Due to insufficient space for classrooms, the Winter Bible School operated only on an extension basis for the 1948 term, January 5 to February 13. Evening classes were operated at seven centers with enrollments as follows: Archbold, Ohio 182, Forks Church near Middlebury 58, Goshen College 21, Maple Grove at Topeka 59, Howard-Miami near Kokomo 113, North Main at Nappanee 70, and Olive Church near Elkhart 35. The total enrollment was 538.

The instruction staff consisted of D. A. Yoder, Minister in charge of the Olive Mennonite Church; I. E. Burkhart, Field Secretary for Goshen College; S. C. Yoder, Professor of Bible at Goshen College; G. F. Hershberger, Professor of History at Goshen College; J. D. Graber, Secretary Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities; John E. Gingerich, Minister in charge of Prairie Street Mennonite Church; Russell Krabill, Assistant Minister North Goshen Mennonite Church; A. C. Brunk, Missionary on furlough from India; Amos Swartzendruber, Missionary on furlough from Argentine, S. A.; John David Zehr, Theology student at Goshen College. There were courses offered in Bible Doctrine, Bible Book Study, Teachings of Jesus, Missionary Teachings in the Bible, and How We Got Our Bible.

As soon as the Auditorium-Gymnasium is completed it is planned to offer the regular six weeks course again at the College plant. The extension classes do not overlap with the classes at the school; consequently, the extension area offers an opportunity either to the college, or to the conferences, or perhaps to both.

ARTIST'S MODEL OF THE NEW AUDITORIUM-GYMNASIUM

Today the campus is buzzing with activity. Concrete mixers, electric saws, tractors and hydraulic shovels add to the din. But out of the seeming chaos, electricians, plumbers, masons, carpenters, steel workers and Engineer Jackson are bringing order . . . For years men have envisioned a building that would seat our capacity crowds, provide athletic and recreational facilities, supply class rooms and afford a much needed student center . . . In 1944 President Miller obtained the permission of the Executive Committee of the Board to draw plans and begin solicitation. Architects plans and models were reviewed and in 1946 a plan was approved . . . Last fall, J. Gordon Jackson, an engineer from Traverse City, Michigan, was engaged to supervise the construction. Almost immediately salesmen were seen going in and out his office in the Ad Building. Samples of building blocks, bricks, window frames, stones and fixtures made their appearance. There were rolls of blueprints and men with wrinkled brow bending over them. Truckloads of steel, a carload of cement, another of lumber and piles of sand and gravel came on the scene. With the coming of spring, work began in earnest . . . And so in what was once the Shoup barn yard will be a modern, efficient Auditorium-Gymnasium, built of brick and beautifully landscaped . . . But walk with me through the building. From Main Street we admire the attractive plate glass windows. Through the front door into a well lighted lobby we find a cloakroom to our left, and beyond, a spacious student lounge with an inviting fireplace. Along the north end is the snack shop, book store, postoffice and a classroom. Large supply rooms are underneath. Back to the lobby we enter the auditorium with a seating capacity of more than 2,000. High along the north and south walls are sixteen beautiful glass block panels. At the east end is the platform ample for a chorus of 300. In the basement beneath are three class rooms. Through doors on the south side are the women's lockers, showers, storage room and Athletic Director's office. Directly under this is the men's department. Back into the Auditorium and to the north, one walks into a lobby with public washrooms at either end . . . But when will this building be a reality? It is hoped, that with continued financial support of Alumni and friends of Goshen College, it will be ready for limited use by Commencement of '49.

Excavation for Locker Rooms

. . . Finish It By '48

Thursday and Friday, September 25 and 26, found students working harder than ever in an effort to raise a fraction of the remaining $125,000 necessary to construct the proposed Auditorium-Gymnasium. This project was sponsored by the Service Committee of the "Y." Approximately half of the student body ordinarily employed part-time in Goshen and Elkhart made arrangements to work full time for these two days. The Service Committee found employment for the remainder of the student body in a variety of jobs: picking tomatoes, picking apples and peaches, pouring concrete, picking up potatoes, filling silo, dressing turkeys, remodeling a church, building a garage, canning baby food, cleaning house, secretarial work, and some maintenance work on the campus.

Apparent to every observer on the campus Friday evening would have been the spirit of satisfaction of having contributed two days of labor in order to bring the college nearer its goal of a new Auditorium-Gymnasium. On December 18, the Service Committee presented a check of $6,031.98 to President Miller as the students' contribution to the Auditorium-Gymnasium.

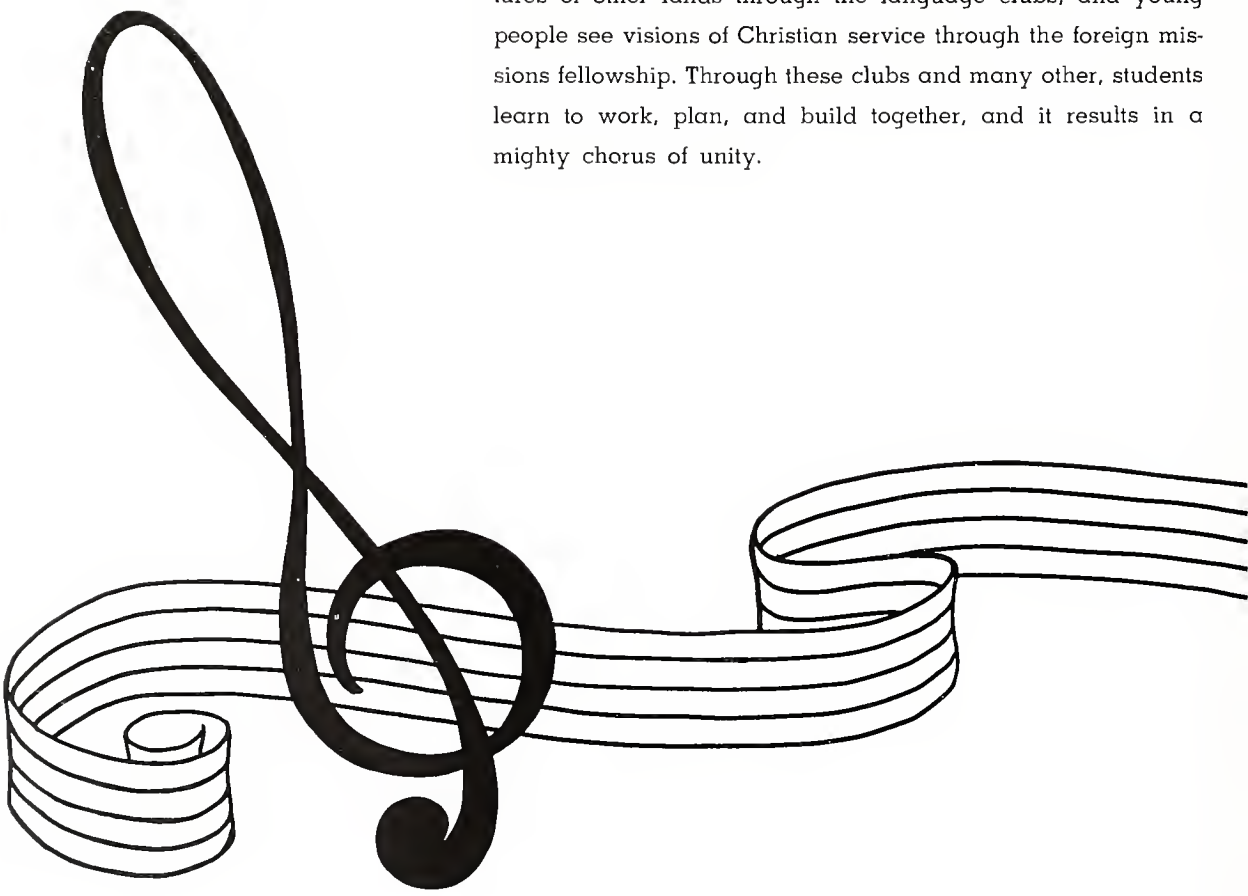
Campus Organizations

Through the music club students appreciate the world's great music, the doctrine of non-resistance is ever before us through the peace society, students meet the peoples and cultures of other lands through the language clubs, and young people see visions of Christian service through the foreign missions fellowship. Through these clubs and many other, students learn to work, plan, and build together, and it results in a mighty chorus of unity.



I'll lift my hands, I'll raise my voice,
While I have breath to pray or praise;
This work shall make my heart rejoice,
Thro'out the remnant of my days.

The Young Peoples Christian Association

The emphasis on our campus on Christ-centered living finds its expression in "Y"-centered activities. Even the motto of the Young People's Christian Association bears this out. Its central purpose is "To know Christ, and to make Him known." And with this thought as inspiration, this most important organization carries out its program of service through the various committees.

The YPCA is the most representative organization on the campus. There is a place for everyone in the "Y"—it is the student's organization, run by them and for them, and it covers all phases of campus activity. Although each committee does its own work independently of the others, the "Y" Cabinet acts as the unifying agent through which all the activities are coordinated and over-lapping activities are adjusted. The Cabinet consists of the YMCA and YWCA officers, elected by the student body, and the men's and women's chairmen of each committee.

The "Y" is, in reality, the corporate expression of the student body. Campus life reflects the life of the "Y"; in fact, much of the campus activity is "Y" sponsored activity. Its influence is always felt; and, as the major student organization, the "Y" has both great responsibilities and opportunities. The past year, it has achieved a great deal. The work of the various committees is briefly outlined on the following pages.

Extension Committee

The command of Christ to bear the good news to all the world is carried out by the Extension Committee in their work of directing the mission Sunday Schools, visitation, tract distribution and other types of work to "make Him known." Many students find their place for service in this committee's work.

Devotional Committee

Thursday devotional periods, dorm prayer meetings, daily devotional guides—all these activities and many others to help students "to know Christ" are carried out by the Devotional Committee. Much opportunity for student participation is offered.

Church and School Relations Committee

The basement bulletin board depicting life at many other sister schools is the responsibility of the Church and School Relations Committee. Through this medium and their RECORD column, this group keeps the students informed and interested in other church activities and work. It also arranges for the Gospel Teams which go out from Goshen College throughout the school year.

Mission Study Committee

To keep the student body up to date and informed concerning mission activities, the Mission Study Committee prepares a bulletin board which helps the students remain conscious of the work in the various mission fields. The Committee also sponsors the annual mission drive.

Service Committee

Service is another phase of Christian activity in which the "Y" takes part. The Service Committee has a program of aid to invalid children in the community, a permanent fire council for student safety, and sponsored a relief drive and the Auditorium-Gymnasium work program—all activities encourage student participation.

Social Committee

Socials, serenades, programs, parties—all the large campus activities leading to better student relationships and Christian fellowship are the product of the "Y" Social Committee. By encouraging acquaintances and friendships and good wholesome entertainment, the Social Committee performs a service to the entire campus.

Membership Committee

You can thank the Membership Committee for the magazines in your dorm social room, for the handbook which is your guide to the campus—if you're a girl—for your big sister, and Heart Sister Week. With these and other activities, this committee aims to make "every student an active member of the 'Y'."

Finance Committee

It really takes work to keep an organization like the "Y" functioning smoothly and the Finance Committee does its part by procuring funds and balancing the budget. The annual drive for funds gives every student an opportunity to participate in "Y" work.

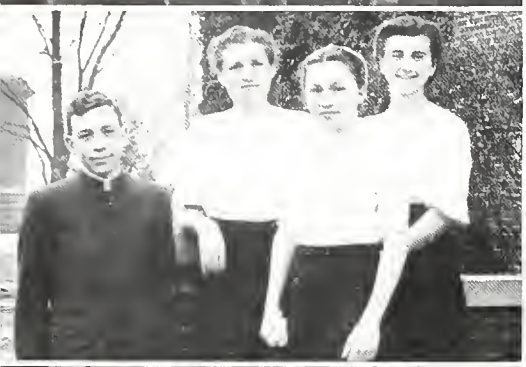
Among the many organizations on the campus to stimulate youth on the general theme of Christian service, is the Christian Workers Band. This band of 170 students has the privilege of hearing inspirational messages each Lord's day morning and also of gathering together for prayer each Wednesday morning.

Whether the speaker is a faculty member, a student or a visiting minister, we are always insured of hearing a message that points up some phase of Christian work. Rural work, missionary enterprises, hospital service and a host of other fields have been topics for inspirational messages. With this a background of our Sunday meetings and with the fellowship enjoined in prayer on Wednesday, we are certain that many of our members will be fervent testimonies for Christ upon leaving their Alma Mater for fields of service.



Gospel Teams

The motto of our YPCA was more fully realized this year as many of our students spent part of Christmas vacation doing the Lord's work. Through Gospel Teams and groups of workers, both churches and mission stations were contacted. All of these activities gave testimony to the love of Christ and to the realization of the importance of doing His work. Evangelistic meetings were held with personal visitation to encourage the response. House to house canvassing in unchurched areas was done with religious questionnaires to be answered. Also, special New Year's meetings were held which gave inspiring stimuli for the days ahead. Many messages both in words and music were given as a witness for Christ who did so much for us. The tasks done were perhaps small, but yet mighty; for who knows how great a small seed cared for by an all powerful Lord may grow?

Mission Sunday Schools

Locust Grove was the scene of much progress this year. The church membership now stands at thirty-nine. Regular services are held each Sunday and Wednesday evening and a program of activities for Saturday afternoon is carried on. Then there are monthly Mother's meetings and Youth Fellowship meetings. Brother Ralph Stahly, of Nappanee, was ordained to the ministry at Locust Grove on February 8, 1948.

The Sunnyside (Dunlap) Church has also grown extensively this year. A building was erected with the aid of the Mennonite Mission Board, and it is hoped that the new congregation will become self-supporting. The first services were held in the building September 14, 1947, and since then attendance has grown.

The Byer's church, under the supervision of Alvin Zeiset, held its first service October 12, 1947, after the remodeling work had been completed. Regular Sunday services were held with as many as sixty people attending. Evening services were also held once each month. Misfortune struck on February 28, when the building was destroyed by fire, but subsequent to that services were held in the Turkey Run Conservation Club House.

The East Goshen Project, started some time ago by the college, this year became an independent congregation. This is the goal the Extension Committee of the "Y" has for all the Mission Sunday Schools.

Working quietly behind the scenes in its research and publication in the fields of Mennonite and Anabaptist life and doctrine, the Mennonite Historical Society seldom projects itself into the open currents of Goshen College student life. Approximately seventy faculty members and students are members of the organization, while the address list of its official organ, THE MENNONITE QUARTERLY REVIEW, contains the names of many alumni. This periodical, now in its twenty-second volume, has a circulation of over five hundred. Many large universities and seminaries are among its regular subscribers. Through exchange agreements it makes available to Goshen College students fifty religious and historical periodicals.

The Society has also been active in publication of a series of books entitled STUDIES IN ANABAPTIST HISTORY, of which six volumes have already appeared. Several new titles are in process of publication and should appear in the near future. In public programs presented during the current school year J. C. Wenger discussed the schism in the Franconia Conference District in 1847, John A. Hostetler presented an illustrated account of his trip to Mennonite communities in western and northwestern Canada, and Wilhelm Kaethler reminisced concerning his boyhood experiences as a refugee from Canada to Paraguay.

Perhaps the most outstanding individual activity of any member of the society was that of its President, H. S. Bender. In connection with his duties as representative of the Mennonite Central Committee in Europe, he has been negotiating the purchase of rare books and periodicals in the fields of Mennonite and Anabaptist history, and microfilming materials which could not be purchased. Funds from sustaining memberships in the Society have made possible the purchase of these materials which will, according to the policy of the Society, be donated to the Mennonite Historical Library and become the property of Goshen College. The Society is controlled by a board of directors of faculty and student members.

In a world torn by strife and hate, the cry for peace is great and never-ending. This group gathers for monthly meetings to study the needs of the world and the plans for peace. This year has been varied and fruitful. Among their programs have been an evaluation of C. P. S. by Paul Albrecht, Irvin Burkhart's own story of a C. O. receiving his citizenship papers, a report of Voluntary Summer Service work and a discussion of the possibility of sending out Peace teams. Among their active work, the Peace Society this year sent packets of Peace Literature to Mennonite ministers in India. Also, two representatives, Bob Ekeland and John Fisher, were sent to the International Relations Clubs Conference at Ann Arbor, Michigan, to study the latest developments and plans for a report to our Peace Society. Peace teams were sent out to churches within the vicinity of the college to give one or several programs on peace and related issues.

Another topic discussed this year was the problem of race relations. This is a problem which directly concerns each one of us and which merits our attention as a problem affecting the internal peace of the nation. A program on this topic was presented in April.

The Peace Society is the center of action for peace on the campus. Its needs and benefits are constantly felt among the students and faculty of Goshen College.

One of the most important undertakings of the church is in the field of foreign missions. But this work calls for a large number of laborers, and it is the purpose of the Foreign Missions Fellowship to waken interest in foreign missions and to acquaint the students with the missionaries and their work. Through their efforts, they hope to inspire students to seriously consider this field of service for their life work, and to make all students "mission conscious". The success of the Foreign Missions Fellowship can be measured by the many former members who are now on the foreign field.

Each year the Missionary Field is held an informal evening of fellowship with former missionaries in native costume; through them we have a first-hand report of the work and progress of the missions. This year, also, the picture "Heart of India", presented by representatives of the American Missions to Lepers, was sponsored by the Foreign Missions Fellowship. At another meeting, Rhoda Wenger, returned missionary from Africa, spoke to the group. Thus, through their many activities, the Foreign Missions Fellowship serves both the school and the church.

Is that flicker of red over there a cardinal or a scarlet tanager? Quick, the field glasses! Oh, it's only one of the girls with a red head scarf. Why doesn't she get an Audubon scarf?

Bird hikes in the spring and fall are a major activity of the Audubon Society. There are many open fields, marshes, and woods around the campus which have been invaded by early morning parties of knowledge-seeking Audubons in search of the many feather friends which inhabit this territory. Much interesting and valuable information concerning the habits of the birds in this part of the country is obtained during these hikes.

In the winter, feeding stations are maintained by the society. During the spring and autumn migrations, a program of banding birds was carried on. Through these activities each member has an opportunity to participate in club projects. During the year several meetings were held with pertinent lectures and films.

The Audubons are concerned not only with bird study but with many types of conservation. Their interests extend to wild life conservation of all kinds, forestry conservation and even soil conservation. The society sponsors a program of active, educational service.

A year of fun and hard work in their favorite pastime of beautifully singing and interpreting the beautiful music of all ages was the pleasant prospect which faced the members of the A Cappella Chorus this year. The first big event of the year was their October 20th outing at McNaughton Park in Elkhart—sports, food, and, of course, songs.

Next, the Homecoming program of Thanksgiving evening to an overflowing house consisted of music by masters from Bach to Christiansen. Among their numbers was Leland Sateren's "Fairer Art Thou", a composition dedicated to the A Cappella Chorus.

The usual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" was not given this year due to lack of seating facilities; instead, the combined choruses sang several numbers from the oratorio at a vesper program just before Christmas.

The second semester was spent in preparation for the spring tour. This year the chorus traveled quite extensively at Easter, going westward to Illinois and Iowa and as far north as Minnesota; then continuing west to Kansas and Nebraska. This year also, for the first time since the war, the men's chorus made a five-day weekend tour eastward into Pennsylvania.

Their final appearance of the year was the traditional performance during Commencement week, completing a successful and pleasant year.

Following the precedents set last year to accommodate the growing student body, tryouts and a spring tour characterized the new Collegiate Chorus. In preparation for Home coming, "The Messiah", vespers, and the tour, this excellent choral group, yearly increasing the quality of their work, labored extensively but willingly to bring to perfection their numbers.

Their October outing was marked by vocal gymnastics in the form of oratory and singing. This seemed a good preparation for their short but excellent performance at the Homecoming Musicale.

Then followed their union with A Capella for the "Messiah" numbers, and finally preparation for that great event, that week of weeks, the spring tour at Easter. This year they traveled eastward into Ohio and Pennsylvania, and northward into Michigan.

Certainly after their performance this year, we may say that one advantage of a larger and more varied student body is the ability o have a bigger and better Collegiate Chorus with the opportunity for it to travel to the various churches as a second representative musical group from Goshen College. Finishing a successful year, the chorus members look back on their work with a deeper appreciation for the great music of the church, and a greater proficiency in interpreting it.

The Choral Society celebrated its first anniversary this year. Organized to meet the demands of the increasing student body, this organization is for those who are not able to sing in either of the other two music groups. They sing for the love of singing, and it is the members of this organization who will be the trained personnel for the future Collegiate and A Cappella choruses. Many freshmen find here the opportunity to sing under trained direction in the famous Goshen College manner for the first time.

Following their outing in October as the Goshen City Park, where many of the freshmen learned to know each other and the other students, the chorus of seventy members presented an excellent chapel program on November 21. They sang a well chosen group of beautiful choral works, displaying their own abilities and the competent guidance of Miss Carolyn Weaver, their director.

The group is becoming increasingly more active. This year, also, they have divided into a men's and a women's chorus for separate practices twice a week. They joined the A Cappella and Collegiate Choruses in singing selections from the "Messiah" at Christmas, and are now looking forward to many more years of praising God in song, hymn, and anthem, as a permanent Goshen College institution.

The study of music is like the study of a universal language. It can be understood by all, and the more one learns about music, the better one is acquainted with its intricacies and beauties.

Aside from actual classes, one of the best ways to study music on the Goshen College campus is by joining the Music Club. Its four-fold purpose is to study music in relation to the other arts, to make it possible for more students to gain an appreciation for the music of the masters, to provide opportunity for members to perform for society, and to sponsor concerts. The first three purposes are carried out at the monthly meetings of the club. Their programs have been varied and interesting this year, ranging from a study of the music of Bach to music of contemporary composers. During a latter program, several compositions by Noble Kreider were played. In addition to listening to records of many of the works, frequently students perform the work themselves. This gives them the opportunity of close study of the compositions.

Among this year's concerts was a brilliant violin recital by Miss Teresa Testa on March 6. The Music Club was also the co-sponsor with the societies of the Spring Music Festival which replaced the usual Spring Festival.

ADELPHIAN — VESPERIAN

Adelphian Literary Society Meeting in Adelphian Hall

In addition to winning the society basketball championship, the Adelphians contributed much to campus life this year, and aided much in their own development, as signified in their motto, "We learn to do by doing." Suiting action to their words, the Adelphians supported a strong athletic program, an outstanding set of society gatherings and con-joint meetings with the Vesperians, and a valuable contribution to the public program. Activity of every sort to keep all members interested was the challenge they threw back to the critics of literary activity. A year marked with high achievement is what they have to show for this season.

Adelphian and Vesperian Literary Societies

"Excelsior"—climbing the heights of the challenge of a new year, the Vesperian Literary Society this year accomplished much in the way of progress and activity in many fields. The annual outing with the Adelphians started off the year right, and was followed by a series of programs throughout the year with several con-joint meetings with the Adelphians. Athletic activities and the public program also occupied a great deal of the Vesperians time. They contributed much to the new course, "Introduction to Western Civilization," presented by them and the Adelphians in January as a challenge to modern radio.

AURORA — AVON

Aurora Literary Society
Meeting in
Aurora Hall

The Aurora motto, "Forward", was especially appropriate as this group of stalwart men progressed toward a better and more rounded out literary program, even in the face of prevalent pessimism concerning the future of literaries. An athletic schedule that was packed to the hilt occupied much of their time. A really new and individualized initiation that required the new members to be creative, was one improvement. The public program, "Scenes from Shakespeare", was a different type of literary presentation. And, of course, the Auroras had their usual share of winners in the forensic activities of the year. Altogether, it seemed to be a big year, carrying forward the traditions of the past and looking hopefully to the coming years.

Auroa and Avon Literary Societies

In all their activities throughout the past year, each Avon strove for the goal expressed in their motto: "To be rather than to seem". Thus, each individual's participation meant wider experience and new knowledge for that person.

In all fields there was activity. Many con-joint meetings were held this year with the Auroras. A poll indicated that this type of program would be enjoyed, and experience bore out these results. Unforgettable among these programs was the Leap Year party for the Auroras given February 23. A program of growth and expansion marked the '47-'48 season for the Avons.

"Der Deutsche Verein" is the gathering place for Goshen College's German-speaking students. To learn the language of a nation, one must become acquainted with the culture of the people who speak that language. The German Club is the ideal place to assimilate some of that culture. Monthly meetings are held during which the students are given a chance to actively use the language they are learning.

There were several highlights in this year's program of activities. The first of these was the traditional Hallowe'en Initiation party held this year at the cabin. Many of the new members will not forget the clammy handshake and the sizzling iron which impressed upon them the responsibility of becoming a member of the German Club.

The annual Christmas program this year was given in cooperation with the other language clubs, stressing the effect of the various cultures on the types of music produced in those countries. Christmas music was one of the groups studied. The annual Poetry Interpretation Contest was again held with its two awards, one for a first year student, and one for a second year student.

A large contribution was made this year by the many German-speaking foreign students on our campus. They aided in the presentation of many of the programs, and lent a realistic air to the meetings.

To acquaint the students of French with the culture and folkways of the French people, the French Club annually sponsors a series of programs for its members which have proved to be very informative and entertaining this year. Frequently during these programs French skits were given and French songs were sung. An attempt is made to keep the students interested in the art and music of France. In connection with this, one of the programs featured a talk by Miss Oyer on the Impressionistic period period in the fields of art and music.

A major highlight of the year was the program in charge of the club sponsor, Miss Gunden. She showed the pictures she had taken while in France during her tour of Europe with the Student Exchange group last summer. The pictures and her comments proved to be one of the most informative programs of the year.

The French Club has carried out a project this year which has given the members an intimate interest in the French people. At frequent intervals during the year, packages of food were sent to families in France. With this practical opportunity for personal contact with the French people, the students have added to their knowledge and appreciation of the language.

The Spanish Club, or "El Ateneo Espanol" as it is known to its members, attempts to create, encourage and maintain in its members, an active interest in the Spanish language. Meetings are held once a month, and these meetings are conducted in the Spanish language. For this reason, of course, candidates for membership must have some knowledge of Spanish.

Frequently at these meetings, Spanish songs are taught to the students, and occasionally films are shown on Spanish countries such as Mexico and Puerto Rico. In this way, the club hopes to promote better relations and understanding between students and the Spanish-speaking countries.

Any students or members who may have visited Spanish countries are given the opportunity to tell their experiences. The club has also benefited very much from the presence of foreign students on our campus who are from the Spanish speaking countries. They have contributed to many of the programs and have felt free to express their sentiments and create a greater interest in their countries.

The object of the Home Economics Club is to develop professional spirit among the members, to keep them in touch with the current topics of the Home Economics world, and to acquaint them with avenues of service.

In order to carry out these goals, the committees plan various types of programs. The September meeting was a tea for all home economics students. At this time forty-five girls decided to become members of the club. For the second meeting, the club members were entertained at the Home Management House. The students living in the House explained how they carried on their home management activities. The December meeting was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carl Hostetler. Mrs. Hostetler spoke on "Making Christmas meaningful to children". A Home Demonstration Agent brought to us information on "Purchasing Small Kitchen Equipment". The regional demonstrator for the Westinghouse Appliance Company gave a demonstration of the automatic washing machine and the electric range, and a local clothier and designer gave a program on designing clothing for children.

Active interest in the club's activities was shown by all members throughout the year.

Another year has passed and another group of prospective teachers have enjoyed a series of programs sponsored by the Elementary Education Club. This club endeavors to link the theory learned in the classroom with active teaching situations. Each member finds her life enriched, her vision broadened, and her aims clarified by these vicarious experiences.

Some of the outstanding programs this year consisted of a tea; a talk by Miss Books, first grade teacher at the Parkside School, excerpts from the work of our Alumni teachers; a Christmas Social; a presentation of kindergarten work by Mrs. Charles Schenk; a delightful trip "Around the Clock with the Child" conducted by a mother, Mrs. Carl Kreider; and the work in an Amish school as experienced by Mrs. Eldon Landis.

Other activities of the Club this year were: the publication of the annual Homecoming Bulletin, giving of school materials to children at Gulfport who are connected with the service unit there, and sending Bible school materials to a Dutch teacher in Holland.

To meet the demands of the increasing number of students interested in Secondary Education, the Secondary Education Club was organized this year. It has been a successful organization, even though this is the first year of its existence. The main activities have been in the form of monthly meetings to present programs of interest to the members. The club has secured during the year some very outstanding speakers who were able to give a great deal of aid to these future teachers, which would be of use to them in their profession. One of the interesting talks they heard concerned the question of what is expected from a teacher. During the lecture, copies of the rating sheet for teachers used in the Goshen High School were made available to the students.

With the cry for better teaching, and more efficient training of teachers, this club is a real benefit to the school, to the students, and to the educational profession as a whole. The role of Christian teachers in our society is an important one, and every aid to prepare our future teachers for their position is a real service to the community. With this prospect, the club looks forward to a bright and growing future.

Whether you like "bang-up" experiments in Chemistry or "shocking" discoveries in the Physics laboratory, you will find that the Goshen College Science Club has much to offer. Seriously, the club is organized to encourage active interest in the sciences, and to provide opportunities for individual projects. Monthly programs are given by each of the several groups into which the club is divided. The Physics department this year gave an excellent demonstration of the operation and uses of the oscilloscope, and a lecture on telescopes and the making of telescope mirrors. The Chemistry department provided informative talks on various phases of Chemistry and gave a dramatization of "The Laboratory" by Browning.. Their program concluded with a demonstration of the havoc that could be wrought by two unsuspecting history students in a Chemistry laboratory.

During the year, several films were sponsored. Among them was a film on the commercial method of making phonograph records. The pre-med department sponsored the Moody Bible Institute film, "God of the Atom".

On March 18, twenty-five students made a trip to the Gary, Indiana, steel mills. Among the individual projects undertaken this year was the making of a telescope mirror for the school. Quite a few other students made mirrors for themselves.

If you enjoy the thrill of soaring through the air on silver wings, if you like to learn more about the science of flying and all the things that go with flying, and especially if you fly yourself, the Goshen College Aero Club is the place for you. This year has seen a host of programs of interest to everyone who likes flying. A parachute demonstration was given with the help of some experienced jumpers—former Smoke Jumpers who are on our campus. Dr. Bender delivered a lecture on the aviation side of meteorology. This, of course, is a very practical problem confronting every pilot every time he flies.

One of the purposes of the Club is to help lower the cost of flying. It is the hope of the Aero Club to be able to purchase a plane of their own some day. Even now, many of the members are pilots. Whenever it is possible, members of the group like to get together for a little cross country flying. One of the highlights of the year was a cross country hop to a spot about seventy-five miles south of Goshen, where the group had breakfast, and then returned. This is the kind of thing the members of the club hope to continue. They intend, too, to increase the number of these and similar jaunts. At least the Aero Club will affirm that the airplane is here to stay.

Debate

Two non-decision debates with Houghton College, Houghton, New York, and the symposium-forum with Manchester College in April marked the climax of the campus debate season. Against Houghton, John W. Snyder and Ernest Martin upheld the negative of the national intercollegiate question, "Resolved, that federal world government should be established." Later in the same day a large audience heard Mac Cripe and Orley Swartzentruber on the affirmative against the Houghton negative. Both teams demonstrated a good analysis and understanding of the basic issues.

During the first semester, the members of the debate squad assisted by the class in argumentation conducted tryouts and intramural debates and discussions. Miss Elaine Sommers directed a separate schedule for the Junior Varsity (freshmen and sophomores) and accompanied four teams to the novice practice tournament at Purdue University.

In February and March our debaters participated in Indiana tournaments. In order to provide training and experience for a larger number of speakers, the same teams did not attend all these meets. Along with Albion and Anderson, Goshen teams tied for first at Indiana University; Albert Meyer and Willard Krabill, affirmative, and John W. Miller and John Fisher, negative, won a total of five out of eight. Miller's and Fisher's record of three wins in four debates equalled an earlier rating won by Cripe and Swartzentruber at Anderson College.

At the annual debate banquet in May, Roy H. Umble, director of forensics, announced the winners of debate letter awards: seniors, Orley Swartzentruber, John Fisher, John Snyder, John W. Miller, John Piatt, Jr., Paul D. Hertzler; juniors, Mac Cripe, Willard Krabill; sophomores, Albert J. Meyer, Ernest Martin. Honorable mention for first year participation goes to Alfred Albrecht, Ben Kenagy, Esther Musselman, and Lois Shank.

In the local peace oratorical contest eight students spoke in the preliminary round. Of this group five contestants presented their orations before the Homecoming Chapel audience. The panel of eight judges, Professor John Umble and seven former local winners, awarded first place to Mac Cripe, second to Emma Sommers, and third to Murray Krabill; the other two speakers were Albert J. Meyer and Philip Barwick. Mac Cripe's prize winning oration "My Red Baseball Cap" presented an analysis of world conditions and emphasized the power of sincere prayer; Emma Sommer's (speech) "He Painted A Picture" contrasted "those giant emotions, love and hate."

In April Goshen was host, for the first time since 1933, to the state contest of the Intercollegiate Peace Speech Association. Mac Cripe and Emma Sommers spoke in the men's and women's oratorical contests. The Association also sponsors a men's and a women's extempore speaking contest dealing with topics related to peace. Winners in the oratorical contests received cash prizes. Donors were the Massanari families of Fisher and Urbana, Illinois, and Amos Geigley of Fairfield, Pennsylvania.

Speaking on the problem on the attitude of the public toward mental health and toward state mental institutions, Paul D. Hertzler represented Goshen in the Interstate Oratorical contest held at Manchester in February. As usual a large number of freshmen spoke on problems of peace and nonresistance in the preliminary and final rounds of the Freshman Men's Peace Oratorical Contests on April 9.

Discussion Contests

In the January Men's Discussion Contest Lloyd Gundy speaking on "Automobiles, Right or Wrong" received the prize awarded by the Auroras. Max Bontrager won second honors with his analysis of the opposition to the Marshall Plan. Paul D. Hertzler spoke on improving our attitudes toward the mentally ill and Norman Hostetler discussed compulsory health insurance.

This year for the first time the Adelphians sponsored the Freshman Men's Discussion Contest. Paul Sieber won first prize; Kenneth Synder, second; Alfred Albrecht, third; and Emery Swartzendruber, fourth. Prizes for this contest are the gift of Waldo T. Stalter. The audience was impressed by the mature choice of subjects.

The Vesperian-sponsored Women's Discussion Contest was the closest contest of the year. Judges and audience awarded first place to Ethel Reeser for her speech "Religion, Pure and Undefiled." Lucille Schulz and Lillian Oswald won second and third places. Other speakers in the finals were Wilma Carpenter and Beulah Marner. TheWomen's Poetry Reading Program annually sponsored by the Avons was held in May.

Of great significance on any college campus is the college periodical. Goshen is no exception, and the Goshen College Record carries out its purpose very well. Besides its natural functions of reporting events that have happened and keeping students informed on coming activities, the RECORD is also the ideal medium for student expression. A Open Letter column this year gave every student a chance to comment on campus conditions. A hard working staff, constantly on the lookout for new ideas, spent many hours each week preparing each issue, and studying format, pictures, and copy to find the best arrangement for an appealing paper. As a result, the RECORD has become a really appreciated college institution.

A flurry of conferences, the clacking of typewriters, the startling gleam of a flashblub, deadlines and more deadlines, poring over pictures, cutting, adding, arranging, changing, starting all over again—put these ingredients together, with a little glue and string, of course, and you have a yearbook. To be specific, you have the MAPLE LEAF. To be sure, there were mistakes, and there will be criticism, but, really, we feel just a little proud of our product. And why shouldn't we? It is a pretty good yearbook, now, isn't it?

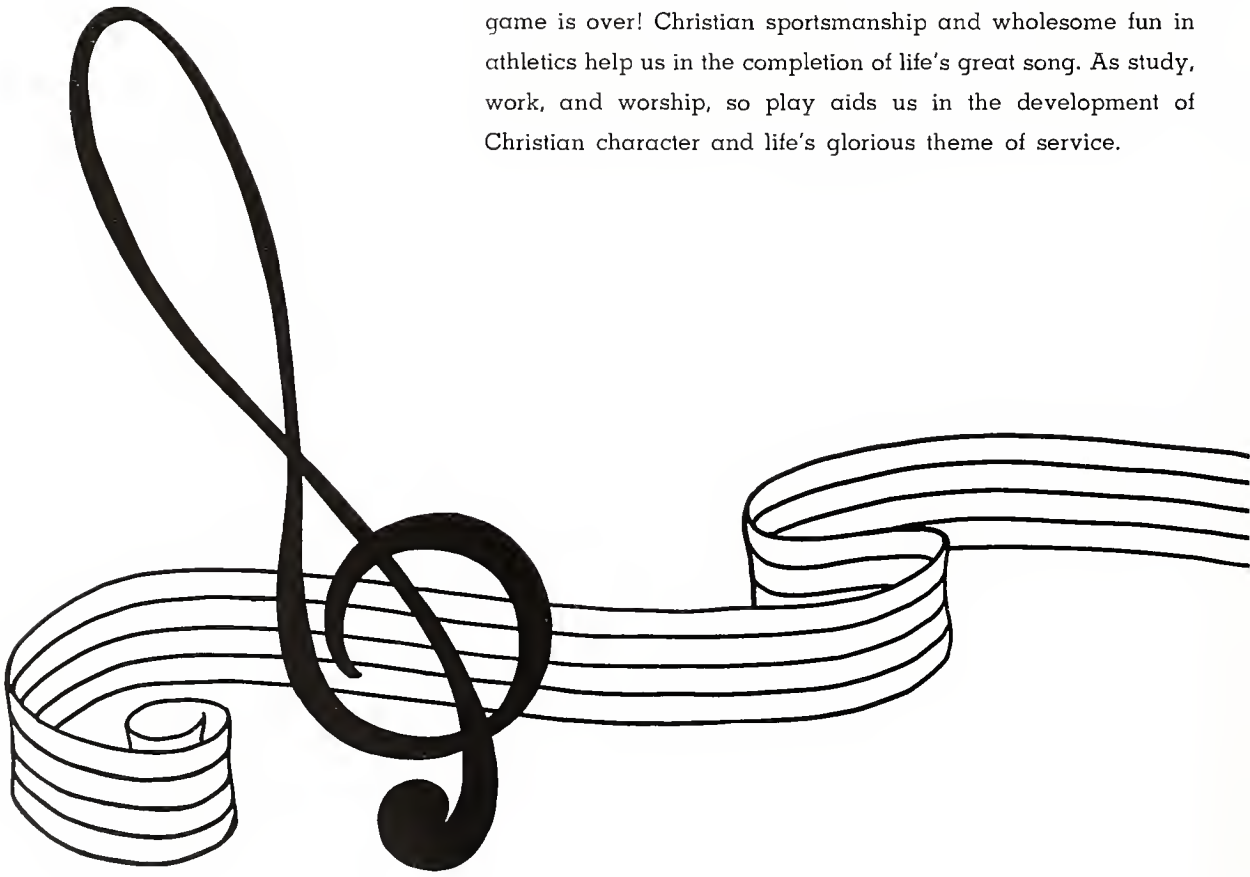
Sports

Score 24-23. A wild pass . . . they lose the ball . . . nine seconds left to play . . . the other team dribbles down the floor . . . the crowd is on its feet . . . the ball leaves his hand . . . the whistles blow . . . two points, the referee yells and another game is over! Christian sportsmanship and wholesome fun in athletics help us in the completion of life's great song. As study, work, and worship, so play aids us in the development of Christian character and life's glorious theme of service.



Here's to the white and the purple;
Gladly our song we raise.
Lifting our heart, doing our part,
Rally we all in praise.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Here's to our dear Alma Mater,
Pledge we our honor true;
To live and do the right with all our might
For Goshen dear we all love you.

W. A. A.

Under the leadership of the Women's Athletic Association and the Faculty Athletic and Recreation Committee a large variety of sports is sponsored for women at Goshen College. Many team and individual sports are offered during its appropriate season. A field and tract meet is sponsored in the spring. Nearby woods, hills, rivers and lakes are also readily accessible for recreational activities such as hiking, biking, boating, skiing, skating and other outdoor activities.

Just as superior work in the classroom is recognized by the college, so is superior achievement in athletics.

"G." Council

The men's sports program of Goshen College is sponsored by the Athletic Department with the aid of the "G" Council. The officers of this organization consist of a president, vice president, and secretary, and its membership consists of all men who have won athletic letters. Last fall this council met with the athletic director at the college cabin to help formulate the rules pertaining to intramural sports competition.

Other activities of the "G" Council were: together with the WAA sponsored the Halloween party, with the WAA and the Social Committee of the "Y" sponsored the Leap Year party, and provided leaders in other recreational activities from time to time.

Homecoming

As has been the tradition for a number of years the Alumni-Varsity Basketball games were held on Friday afternoon of Homecoming Week-end. Judging from the number of persons attending the games this year, they have become one of the main attractions of the Homecoming program. No doubt everyone who attended the games was looking forward to the new Auditorium-Gymnasium, as the present gym did not hold every one who wished to see the games. Both games were thrilling to the last, however, the men's and women's varsity teams strengthened the growing tradition that the varsity teams always win the Homecoming games.

Men's Basketball

The men's basketball season was divided into two tournaments, the Round Robin and the final Elimination tournaments. For the Round Robin tournament the 15 teams were divided into two leagues, six teams playing in the "A" League and nine in the "B". In the "A" League each class was allowed to have at least one team, and if there were enough players from any one of the four classes to form other teams able to compete successfully with "A" League competition, these teams were added. This year the freshmen and sophomores both had scond teams in the "A" League.

The "B" League teams were not formed as the "A" League teams were, but a number of captains chose in rotation to make their teams and in this way the teams were more nearly equal in ability. While the "A" League competition was mainly that of class against class, competition in the "B" League was more of team against team, regardless of class distinction.

On the final Elimination tournament all the "A" and "B" League teams were placed together in one tournament, some of the "A" League teams being seeded into different brackets.

A new feature this year that proved to be very successful was providing all of the "B" League and several of the "A" League teams with coaches. This not only helped the teams but also provided good experience for those serving as coaches.

Women's Basketball

A larger number of girls participated in basketball this year than ever before in the history of Goshen College. The group was organized into two leagues. The "A" league composed of seven teams; and the "B" league composed of six teams.

Never before had the upperclassmen provided such competition for the Freshmen. Scores of the games were close, enthusiasm and cooperation of team mates was great, and good sportsmanship was displayed. These factors made the competition interesting and enjoyable. However, the teams played not only to win for at Goshen College players learn that sports have value only as they develop good sportsmanship and thus contribute to the character and general development of each Christian girl.

The "Big Five" football league played as exciting and thrilling football as the fans at "Boiler Room Stadium" have ever witnessed. The five squads were so evenly matched that regardless of rain or shine the football fans were on hand to witness each game with real enthusiasm.

In the final game of the season the undefeated Junior-Senior team literally crushed the undefeated Sophomore I challengers 13-0. The Junior-Senior team played heads up ball all season with a terrific defense but the offensive attack by the touchdown twins "Chuck" and Ray (Boehr and Bair) was the undeniable fact of sure victory. Game after game as eagle-eyed "Chuck" faded back Ray would speed down into enemy territory 40 or 50 yards from the line of scrimmage to receive the ball in his waiting arms. Then he would gallop away to the goal line for another touchdown.

September evenings in Hoosier-land are made to order for softball, and Goshen College players take full advantage of it. The enthusiasm and level of achievement in this game are second only to basketball in the entire athletic program.

An abundance of skilled players in each class makes it necessary for the Athletic Department to maintain two leagues in each of the men's and women's divisions.

An abundance of skilled players in each class makes it necessary for the Athletic Department to maintain two leagues in each of the men's and women's divisions.

In the men's division, each player interested in participating is assigned to a team by the athletic committee of his class. His team will play about two evenings a week on one of the three diamonds in operation.

The women's division completes its competition in the spring with each league conducting a round-robin tourney.

Good literature is not just born; it is made. All literature, whether written in the pulp magazine language or the flowing English of the Victorian era, is made according to the desires of men. Just so is Mennonite literature made. But Mennonite literature is different because the Mennonite Publishing House and her writers are dedicated to the advancement of the cause of Christ and the Church. You can have confidence in Mennonite literature because men of God write Mennonite literature.

It's easy to prepare

PRAISE WINNING DISHES

Be a clever Hostess—your guests will cheer when you serve delicious La Choy Chop Suey or Chow Mein. And it is so easy to prepare. Ask your Grocer for La Choy Bean Sprouts or La Choy Mixed Chinese Vegetables; add celery, meat and onions according to simple recipe on the labels.

Send for FREE recipe booklet—"The Art and Secrets of Chinese Cookery."
